Packaging & Logistics

The packaging is tailor-made for each product, using a minimum amount of packaging material. Moreover, in this way the product is optimally packaged and well protected during transport.

In addition, we try to protect our products as much as possible during transport with packing blankets. These packing blankets are made from textile remnants, for example from residual material from local upholstery shops.

After we have delivered the products, we take the blankets back and they are reused daily. The carriers that work with Spell, just like Spell, attach great importance to sustainability. They strive to reduce CO2 emissions by, among other things, using cleaner engines, efforts to reduce fuel consumption, optimizing the loading space and optimal planning.
